

WELCOME

Welcome to another edition of the HinterWelt Enterprises newsletter! It's the New Year, and time for some new products.

NEWS

Yes, I've been saying it for months now, but Nebuleon is actually-factually on the market! Get your Sci-Fi role playing fix with our newest core rules; 240 pages of Iridium powered goodness. Our first hard cover book, Nebuleon is chocked full of beautiful illustrations, detailed setting, and entertaining fiction. Check it out at your local hobby store today!

Back in the Corps Again, the first supplement for Nebuleon, is currently at the printers and expected out in stores in February.

Like all our supplements, this 80 page soft cover book contains an adventure, rules expansions, and hot new weapons and equipment. The story begins with a distress call from an Andromedaen research vessel. Can your team discover what happened, rescue the survivors, and live to spend the profits?

Our chief writer is diligently working on Roma Imperious, our next offering for the alternate history line. This takes place in an altered Roman Empire, where faith in magic replaced faith in Christianity, and the Roman Empire faces off against the immortal Jade Emperor of the East. Join the Corps Afrikaans and battle jungle shamans, or fight the frozen giants of the north. Everything is familiar and yet strangely altered in this brave new world. Due out in late May, 240 pages, hard cover MSRP $35.

CAMPAIGN

We had a great time up in Village Games in Anoka, MN last week. We were running an introduction to Tales of Gaea, our fantasy game. If you're in the Anoka area, stop by on Saturdays in the month of January to sit in on the game. The adventure, 'Village of Teranda', is available free from our website for those who live out of state.

Campaign Log:

http://www.hinterwelt.com/forum/topic.asp?TOPIC_ID=43

Village of Tirada

<http://www.hinterwelt.com/TOG/Demo.htm>

TECHNOBABBLE

We have added a Roma Imperious web page to the Shades of Earth Site. We will have previews for the cover, art and content listed there as they become available.

<http://shades.hinterwelt.com/RomaImperious.htm>

We have also updated the Nebuleon Site with previews of the first supplement, Back in the Corps Again. Free downloads and all the information on this supplement is now available here:

<http://neb.hinterwelt.com/BITCA-REF.html>

That's all for this month. Happy New Years!